DISTRICT WIDE WORKSHOP

Title of Workshop: Meeting Accommodations through Technology

Date: 7/16/2019

Times: 12:30 pm - 3:30 pm

Session Description:

There are many ways students learning needs are met through accommodations and modifications. In this session, we will explore ways teachers and students can use technology to make learning more accessible for struggling students. Some specific accommodations which will be addressed include text-to-speech, speech-to-text, recording lessons, responding orally, and listening to audio instead of reading text. We will also share/brainstorm ways to communicate modifications to students in efficient and consistent ways.

Content Area: All grade levels, K - 12 (technology integration)

Grade Span: K - 12

Objectives: To help meet student accommodations through the use of technology

Department or Building: Technology/Admin

Contact and Presenters: Joey Gall & Tena Reese

Building Location: PLC Located at 2100 W Perry Rd.

Room Location: Auxiliary Room

Notes: This session is ½ day and will meet from 12:30 - 3:30. It's a hands-on class, and devices will be provided.

BE SURE TO REGISTER IN KALPA

Title of Workshop: Helping Reluctant Writers Through Technology

Date: 7/16/2019

Times: 8:30 am - 11:30 pm

Session Description:

Do you have any reluctant writers in your classroom? There are many reasons why students avoid writing. They could have a hard time getting started, and feel overwhelmed with the task; have poor ideation; have trouble keeping track of their ideas while getting them into their writing; or poor spelling, which interferes with the automatic use of writing mechanics. In this session, we will share technology-based tools that may help these reluctant writers be more successful.

Content Area: Technology Integration

Grade Span: K-12

Objectives: To help reluctant writers become more successful through the use of technology

Department or Building: District Wide - TECHNOLOGY

Contact and Presenters: Joey Gall and Tena Reese

Building Location: PLC (2100 W Perry Rd.)

Title of Workshop: Practicing Speaking and Listening through Technology (K-12)

Date: 7/23/2019

Times: 8:30 am - 3:30 pm

Session Description:

In today's world, literacy also has a technological component. This includes using technology in reading and writing, but students also need to show competencies in speaking and listening skills through technology. This requirement is also reflected in some of the assessments our students take including ELAP and some AP tests. In this workshop we will learn to incorporate technology tools that will help students practice speaking and listening skills so they feel more comfortable and better prepared to demonstrate their knowledge and express their ideas with technology.

Content Area: Technology Integration

Grade Span: K-12

Objectives: Explore resources to help your students become better speakers and listeners.
