Teachers ask. You choose.

Another great opportunity is Donors Choose. Teachers are encouraged to set up a free account. They then share a little about their classroom setting, their project they would like funded, and then they shop from the marketplace vendors.

To qualify for a matching grant Economics Arkansas is able to offer, teachers must select that they are teaching ECONOMICS through their grant in the subject field, and they should make each request no more than $750.

When the grant is funded, the items are shipped to the school. The teacher then writes thank you letters and posts photos of the students using the resources requested.

It's a great way to add resources to the classroom. We have teachers in Arkansas who have received over 40 projects funded totaling $10,000-$15,000 of added resources. Check out www.donorschoose.org for more details.
